The Performers

Magellan - Magellan is a Sussex-based four-piece band that has a wealth of experience of pub sessions, concerts, barn-dances and ceilidhs. The band performs traditional tunes and songs, and also contemporary material, mainly on acoustic instruments, including acoustic guitars, electric bass guitar, flute, penny-whistle, mandola, and piano-accordion. Magellan organises and leads regular events in Shoreham, including the Golden Slipper Club and the Shoreham Sessions, see the box elsewhere for details. See the Magellan web site at <http://www.magellan.folkmaster.com>. Contact 'Doctor' Bob Howlett tel. 01273 464510, email DrBob@folkmaster.com.

Stuart Reed - Tremendously talented singer / guitarist Stuart Reed is a member of the well known Sussex folk band 'The Taverners'. His repertoire ranges across a wide spectrum, from traditional ballads to compositions by cutting-edge modern songwriters. Not to be missed! Contact Stuart by email at sr@stureed.co.uk.

Slip Jig - Slipjig have been playing Irish and American roots folk together for over five years and are all residents of central Shoreham. They have a regular gig at the Red Lion, Old Shoreham, on the Third Tuesday of each month, which is now so popular it is 'standing room only'! Contact Tim 'TC' Carter tel. 01273 462156, email timcarter142@hotmail.com

Maureen and Rob Ross - Don't miss this powerful, distinctive voice and tremendously varied range of material from sea-shanties to music hall, with a terrific bodhran accompaniment. Contact Maureen, telephone 01903 755009, email Maureen@fantasiafancydress.com.

Diana Plumer - Diana is a solo singer guitarist who has been on the folk scene for some time playing country music and folk.

The Warner Brothers - The Warner Brothers are a family duo comprising flute and accordion. Some have mistaken them for twins!! They are occasionally accompanied by their younger brother on bodhran. They have two main aims:- to collect hornpipes from every major town in England and to find obscure world folk tunes. Their quest continues with no end in sight. Contact Dick Warner, tel. 01903 214564, email Maplelodge1@talk21.com

Chris Jones - Guitar virtuoso Chris will be playing and singing some classic country blues numbers on national steel guitar, and upping the decibels with some tasty electric slide kick-ass boogie! Contact Chris, telephone 01903 212677, email alnwickladd@btopenworld.com.

Rude Mechanicals - Versatile multi-instrumental duo (Barry Ruffle and Ray Chandler) play foot-tapping music for all occasions. Well known on the Sussex music scene and beyond, they play a huge repertoire of varied material including original arrangements of traditional folk tunes and new compositions. See more information on their web site at <http://www.rudemmechanicals.ukf.net>.

Last Orders - Guitar, fiddle and banjo come together to play mainly Irish traditional tunes in combination with other influences. A band kept constantly busy playing for barn-dances and celidhs.

Max and Bill Sweatman - This popular local husband and wife duo perform a wide range of traditional French music on Hurdy-Gurdy and accordion / melodeon. Subject to confirmation.

Other Performers - The list is still not complete yet!!

The Golden Slipper Club

A host of musicians gather to perform at a regular monthly meeting in the most compact performance venue in the known universe! The first Thursday of each month at 9pm, The Ferry Inn Cellar Bar, High St, Shoreham.

The Shoreham Sessions

A dozen or two folk musicians gather for a traditional round table folk song and tune session. Beards, real-ale and fingers in the ear, and we are not ashamed! Currently the third Monday of each month at 9pm, the Bridge Inn, High Street Shoreham, but check the web site before travelling
